++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry and bright today.

Today:
Most staying dry with good bright and sunny spells, with only a few isolated light showers expected. Cloud thickening for a time around mid-day in Down, perhaps also towards Belfast, bringing the chance of some patchy rain. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Some patchy rain during the evening which clears to the south before midnight, as the winds veer north to northwest, bringing clear spells and scattered showers overnight. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Thursday:
A cold day despite the bright and sunny spells, with showers brought on fresh to strong north to northwest winds, these ranging from occasional around the coasts, isolated across Fermanagh. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Friday dry, sunny for most with risk of showers limited as northwest winds ease. Turning milder Saturday as winds back southwest, pushing rainbands across area. Sunshine and showers for Sunday.
